

I do not support RM-10810. I think that to operate in most of the HF radio spectrum, element 1 should be part of the exam. I also think that to operate between 1.8 and 30. Mhz, one should pass an exam that is more in depth than the one that is used for UHF and VHF.